I built the original version of Django structure, even though it was modified by other teammates when the project implementation goes on being more functional. I also took responsible for deleting the redundant files or directories on Github by using Git command, and cooperated to design the framework diagram, which will be implemented and realized later in the project. For this project, I did 10% of work for the contribution, which are mainly in the beginning of building the structure of the project.